

PHOTO CONTEST

The EuroGlobe Photo Award (Belgium) asks Belgian photographers to submit creative and innovative photos dealing with the problem of global warming and climate change as well as its consequences for Europe and in particular Belgium.

The overall topic of the contest is: "Act now!". All kinds of images are permitted, whether documentary, fictional photography, or other.

Who can participate

Professional and non-professional film makers of all ages.

Deadline for submission

Extended to 15th of June 2010.

Jury

A selected jury of well-known Belgium and international photographers and experts in the field will choose the best contributions. The name of the jury members will be published soon.

Selection Procedure

The jury will select the best photos to be shown in an exhibition in Namur and in Antwerp in 2010. The exhibitions will be running for more than 2 weeks in each city in the framework of the EuroGlobe festivals in both cities.

Voting

Audience Voting - The visitors of the exhibitions in Namur and Antwerp will select the best photo by secret audience voting.

Online Voting - The visitors of the EuroGlobe website may participate by voting online.

The winner of the EuroGlobe Photo Award will be the photographer with most audience and online votes combined.

Winning Prize

The winner is awarded a high-quality digital camera.
